Four Corners Framed Art

Four Corners Framed Art was founded over 20 years ago by Joseph Crownover and his best friend Gregg. They started in Durango, Colorado, and opened another fine art gallery in Flagstaff, Arizona, (Hence the name Four Corners) because of the region they were in. Joseph's partner Gregg passed away and he went through a divorce and relocated to KC reopening on the Liberty square 7 years ago. Unlike many other frame shops that charge an arm and a leg for high quality custom framing his philosophy has always been charge as little as possible and make only a small profit on each piece, instead of only seeing the customer once they come back time after time! They refer their friends and family and he has carved out a loyal customer base that constantly comes back. He has customers that come from all over the city so it only made sense that he move to an area that is more centrally located for everyone to get to. He is a conservation framer so everything he does is of the highest quality, he only uses acid free materials and UV glass. Joseph's background in the fine art business has led him to be known for carrying high quality investment grade art. It's not uncommon for them to have a $10k piece of art on the wall and an original Thomas Hart Benton being framed. They absolutely love Englewood Station Arts District. Our customers love the uniqueness of the area! They have invested a lot in their space and signed a very long term lease.

Four Corners Framed Art will make Englewood Station it's home for many years to come.

Englewood Station Healing & Arts

Char Clem decided to open her shop, Englewood Station Healing & Arts because of her love of a better way of living. It started when her father, a very active 80-year-old whose passion is traveling and riding his Harley's. Finding a solution to be pain-free without harsh chemicals and expensive prescription drugs, use the alternative of CBD. Char has helped people from different walks of life find and maintain a better way of being pain-free and healthier. You will also find in her shop, soaps, jewelry, art and a selection of CBD products, along with her Catahoula named Daisy.

Puppetry Arts Institute

Puppetry Arts Institute is currently conducting puppet painting workshops which include a Good Citizen puppet show for our 1,340 Independence School District kindergarten children from September through November. This is an exciting event for these children where they paint a puppet head from the Hazelle Rollins puppet factory. The factory closed in 1980 and two semi-trailer loads of puppet parts were donated to Diane Houk and her friends to start a puppet museum, theater, and workshops area in Englewood. Our puppet show this month is "The Boy Who Cried Wolf" on Saturday, October 19 at 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. This great show is performed by Papa and Jackie Wright with free books for the children attending. Sponsored by Missouri Arts Council.
