Artists Palette

Teresa Cosgrove is a local artist who loves trying different mediums and subject matters but is mainly known for her acrylic paintings and pastel portraits.

Her paintings range from tiny to very large and are typically very colorful. She likes to dabble with different subject matter, although she is consistently drawn to scenery such as skyscapes, waterscapes, and landscapes. Many of her paintings are glimpses of her own personal experiences that she wants to share. Her scenes are meant to move the viewer to feel the beauty of a vivid moment in an inspiring environment.

On the other end of the spectrum are her portrait art pieces, which are typically grayscale. She focuses on not only conveying the technical likeness of a person or animal but also the essence of a soul. Her drawn portrayals also range from small to large, as this benefits the purchaser in fitting her artwork in the recipient's space.

Along with charcoal and pastel, she likes to finish with acrylic highlights to give the features an additional layer of depth. Her portraits are typically commissioned, which she embraces.

Teresa is also active in the Englewood community. She has loved the Englewood area since her childhood. Art has always played a significant role in her life, from childhood to the present, so she is thrilled that Englewood is a designated Arts District.

She has been volunteering with Englewood organizations such as WestInd Connection, GROW, and the Englewood Business Association. Teresa is the Communications Coordinator for Englewood Arts, which is a nonprofit organization focused on building the community through arts and is currently renovating a historic Englewood structure into a community arts center.

If you are interested in commissioning or purchasing her art please visit her website TeresaCosgroveArt.com. Her website also exhibits sold and available pieces.
