HeArt 2HeArt Connection

Englewood Business Association has a fund raising opportunity working with WestInd Connection selling heArts. WestInd Connection will place these heArts on poles up and down the Winner Rd/Lexington parkway in the Englewood Station Arts District, trying to fill poles from Truman Rd to the Square. Show your LOVE so that everybody who walks or drives by will see it! They have already started hanging them and will be up on the poles during the entire month of February.

To order your heArt just on-line at www.westind.org be sure to choose Englewood Business Association button. Choose up to 35 characters. If you would like something more elaborate, you can consult with a local artist to create something extra special, an additional fee may apply. If you have Purchased one before and want the same one, make that note in the messages. Get your heART now! Please purchase your LOVE heART with the EBA. We have to get your order in fast in order to give enough time to paint your message on your custom heArt and get it installed on the poles. Tell your friends about these heArts too!

"When you buy from a small mom business, you are not helping a CEO buy a third vacation home. You are helping a little girl get dance lessons, a little boy get his team jersey, a mom put food on the table, a dad pay a mortgage, or a student pay for college. Our customers are our shareholders - and they are the ones we strive to make happy. Thank you for supporting small businesses!"

Thad Issac McCullough aka Thaddy Mac, aka Leona Noel was born in Leon, Iowa in August of 1979 and grew up there until his family moved to Lexington, MO in 1987 where he graduated High School in 1998. During school he was very involved in Music and Theatre. After graduation he headed to Chicago to audition for De-

Paul University's Theatre program. He did not get accepted but was put on their waiting list for the fall semester. That summer he received a housing application from DePaul, however not being able to afford the down payment he needed to get to work if he was to start his life as an adult. Thad ended up finding Cosmetology School, it was after all something familiar to him as I had several aunts and a mother who were beauty professionals. He went to the Missouri College of Cosmetology and graduated in 2003. In 2004 he found and met Tammy Parsons who was owner of B-Vogue Salon & Gallery and was accepted as a stylist there. Not long after starting at B-Vogue, Englewood earned its status as The Arts District of Independence. Art began flooding in and became a constant source of inspiration. Through B-Vogue and the Arts we started many philanthropic endeavors, like using the Arts as a funding mechanism to give back to a local grade school's art program. Our philanthropic efforts grew until we decided to create a non-profit called the West iNd Connection. We were determined to create a good vibes culture by creating events that supported our four pillars: Arts, Community Care, Animal Welfare and the LGBTQ+ Community. Through that time, he started his own birthday fundraiser and rekindled his passion for performing. Thadapalooza has evolved into a Drag Variety Show that supports the local LGBTQ+ Community of Independence, MO. After 7 successful years they have raised over $27,000! Thad is an Artist in many ways! He plays in hair, make-up, paint, paper mâché, whatever medium is needed to create whatever passion project he is giving my his attention to at the moment. Currently he knee deep in Hearts, for the Heart 2 Heart Connection which hangs love messages on Hearts (from front page). He is also working on programming for the new and exciting Englewood Arts Center. Side note: He was working on a young man's hair who was graduating and headed to DePaul University to audition for their theatre program. He was so excited for him and told the young man about how he, himself had auditioned and got put on their waiting list. The young man got accepted! Thad said, "How did you find out?" the young man simply said, "They sent me a Housing Application" ...Thads jaw hit the floor! He, Thad said, "I got a Housing Application!" Oh, well! He could have been very devastated by this news. Shaking his fists at the Gods or cursing himself and/or his parents for not checking further into the mystery housing application. However, who knows where that path might have taken him? What he is sure of is that he is surrounded by Creativity, Love, Compassion, Art, People, and Joy on a regular basis and for that Thad feels truly BLESSED!
