Artists Palette

Artist of the month, Karen Polka loves painting, writing, cooking.....and all things creative. Turning something that never was into something that is treasured makes her soul feel like it's coming home after a long road trip...and it's always good to get home! She moved here to Independence, from West Virginia, only last summer, 2019. She bought a house...and settled in to a town she has absolutely has fallen in love with and feels like she is HOME!

When Karen's sister, Mary Ellen Gober, shared her dream to open a wine and martini bar in an Arts District called the Englewood Station Arts District, with people who also share their own dreams, with their shops, and their talents....and invited her to share her art at their bar, the answer was Yes!!! Yes!! Absolutely Yes! Karen is the exclusive artist to the fabulous and totally wonderful new Wine and Martini Bar, Wine Down 109 that opened January 2020, located at 10914 E Winner Road. Her paintings "Ladies Who Lunch" and "Ladies of Dogwood Villa" all have storylines and bio's simply because they must. "Fly Girls" is a near and dear one, inspirational motivators about hope and believing in yourself." Karen has been working on a new collection called "THE GATSBY GIRLS...Circa 1920's" which has really gotten her creativity humming. She is also doing Storytimes at the Wine Down 109.
