New Business Coming to Englewood

Welcome to Jill McEnroe and her business Frannie Franks Coffee Cakes planning a September opening. Frannie Franks Coffee Cakes was born June 2011, as Jill wanted to take a homemade cake to her boss for his Birthday at a graphic design job.

Looking through her Mother's dusty, hand written recipe book with ingredient stained notecards and came across her coffee cake recipe, and she thought she would try her hand at it. Childhood memories of Frannie standing in the kitchen wearing polka dots, pearls and heels, while baking and humming to Patsy Cline on the radio with the sweet smell of cinnamon immediately filling her thoughts. The recipe made a few so she sent extras with husband to work. When she gave her boss the Happy Birthday Cake, he later came to her cubical and told her she could sell them! She thought that would be nice, kinda laughing. Then a few minutes later she had a text from her husband with orders from his co-worker wanting more!

With-in one week Jill found a commercial kitchen incubator at the Ennovation Center, on Forrest here in Independence and went full speed ahead! Soon they were in Dean & DeLuca, The Roasterie, HyVee, Cerner and became a shark Tank Semi-Finalist! They have one over 13 award, including People's Choice award and have been told they give people a new addiction.

After taking a brief hiatus, they have relaunched with even more flavors, trying to rebuild their following. As for their production team, it's family, her niece Jenny, is the other face you will see besides Jill's in Englewood.

They are very excited about moving into the Englewood Station Arts District at 10916 E Winner Road. Everyone has been so friendly, welcoming and we cannot wait to call it home. They are very busy making the space their own and continuing to run their business at the markets and events they attend. Hope you will come in and attend the soft opening Labor Day weekend Say, Hi, Look around and leave happy. Flavors offered in regular, gluten-free & dairy-free no extra charge. Prices range from $4- $30. They do freeze well once you get them home.

The need for traffic calming in the Englewood Arts District has been rapidly growing as the increasing popularity of the Englewood Arts District is bringing in more and more pedestrian traffic. Community members, recognizing the need to slow traffic down, became aware of a trend to utilize crosswalk art and painted areas on the street as a means to significantly calm traffic and bring awareness to pedestrian walkways. Several local organizations agreed that using art as a solution is a great fit as it will be implemented in a city zoned Art District- the Englewood Arts District. These organizations have worked together to support the launch and execution of the first annual Englewood Street Art Project including The West iND Connection, The Englewood Business Association, The Englewood Community Improvement District, Englewood Arts, and the City of Independence. The Englewood Street Art Project is a great example of how a community can come together to create positive solutions and spur good things to happen. This project also demonstrates beautifully how art can serve as a proactive catalyst for many things, including safety! Project dates Sept. 4, 5, 11, & 12.

Four Corners Framed Art is hosting an in-person meet and greet with legendary rock and roll photographer Mike Frankel on 3rd Friday, Oct. 15, 5 pm to 9 pm so "Save the Date". Free event & open to the public.

During the late 1960s, Frankel was one of the most in demand photographers for musicians. The great photographer Jim Marshall, who had extended access to numerous musicians throughout the 1960s like Frankel, was once quoted saying, "Mike Frankel is the greatest rock and roll photographer of all time!" Frankel's archive of over 50,000 images is just being released to the public in a limited quantity. His first coffee table book is also set to be released by the end of 2021, followed by an additional book of just his Beatles photos. "This is truly a rare opportunity to meet a living legend," said Joseph Crownover. "This will be only the third time Mike Frankel's work has ever been shown or made available to the public since the photos were taken over 50 years ago."

Englewood Arts Summer Camp was a Hit!

From July 5th through the 30th Englewood Arts had a blast working with the youth of the area, learning to sculpt animals, paint still lifes, screen print shirts and create our own instruments!

Four unique themed camps brought kids in from all over the metro in the month of July to experience Summer Arts Camp through Englewood Arts.

Special thanks to the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation for the generous sponsorship, and the Kansas City Zoo for bringing out the Zoomobile. Thanks to all of our assistance for the daily help, Pottery Art for donating the space, and of course, Michelle Smith (ISD Elementary Art Department Facilitator) for dedicating her time to help teach our students all about art.
